Who would be your celebrity Valentine and why?

Chace Crawford from Gossip Girl - he's got amazing lips and I could borrow his hair products. Plus, he could tell me all the twists on upcoming Gossip Girl. Me and Kris Di Angelis are obsessed with the show.

Who would be your London gay scene Valentine and why?

Steve Pitron because I love an Essex boy.

Who is your real life Valentine?

I am single. Still. Any takers?

What would be your dream Valentine date?

I'm a traditional girl. I would go for a lovely discreet dinner at Home House, followed by a foreign film at the Curzon and then back to mine for a good old fashioned fuck.

Who would be your celebrity Valentine and why?

David Beckham for his sparkling conversation. Seriously, I saw him close up once and was utterly speechless. Stunning and really lovely.

Who would be your London gay scene Valentine and why?

Well I think it would be a toss up between the lovely Tuomo Fox and the interesting Steve Pitron.

Who is your real life Valentine?

I am currently holding open auditions for the part of the Future Mrs. Cross. Applicants should be young, fit and have absolutely no morals whatsoever.

What would be your dream Valentine date?

Dinner with Dr Who head honcho Stephen Moffat as he offered me a part in the show.

Who would be your celebrity Valentine and why?

I think Tina Turner because she's simply the best, better than all the rest. Better than anyone, anyone I've ever met.

Who would be your London gay scene Valentine and why?

A Man To Pet as Tina Turner. There's no one who beats that bitch in charisma and outfits on the scene! Yes you could say I'm a tranny-fucker. I love my trannies and Tina!

Who is your real life Valentine?

Ralf Obergfell that sexy German photographer. He's mine! He's hot!

What would be your dream Valentine date?

My future husband (Ralf) on Copacabana beach dressed up as Tina Turner in a swim suit!

Who would be your celebrity Valentine and why?

I am 'hearting' Mr Duncan James, ex of Blue and currently starring in Legally Blonde. Duncan is sweet and charming and has looks to kill for. I have a bit of banter going with him on Twitter but I don't think he realises I yearn to find out the truth about the rumour regarding his enormous 'talent' and if it was true they had to pad him down on Skating On Ice to hide the blushes of all of our grannies!

Who would be your London gay scene Valentine and why?

David the manager of Escape in Soho. He is so tall and handsome and has an irresistible Hungarian charm. I've heard his goulash is to die for. Shame he is loved up, but I can dream.

Who is your real life Valentine?

I am pleasantly single but if I could turn a friend into a lover it would be my mate Enrique who is thoughtful and kindness itself. Sadly we're past lustful thoughts regarding each other now but he will make someone a marvellous husband one day!

What would be your dream Valentine date?

Not having to put the drag on then an afternoon maxing out his credit card followed by dinner at The Ivy where we would over-indulge on champagne and oysters. Then the obligatory 12 hours in bed at The Hempel Hotel. It's more likely to be a trip to Primark, a Maccy D and quick shuffy up the back alley behind Madame JoJos however.

What's the real life weirdest Valentine's story you've got?

I once had a gorgeous boyfriend called Antonio who graced your cover in the late 90s. I sent him 12 red roses on Valentine's Day but we had a fall out about something really ridiculous that evening and he walked out on me. When I woke up the next day I found a mangled mass of foliage on my hall floor as he had squashed all the flowers back through the letterbox with a 'fuck you' style note. I have to say I kind of deserved it and in retrospect it was very funny. We are bosom buddies again now I hasten to add!
